Lisa Marie Anderson

Lisa studied at Oakcrest as a seventh grader the year the school began. After spending two years in Germany with her family, she returned as a sophomore. Lisa has the reputation of being "laid-back" and is known for her humorous comments. Her wide reading gives her an amazing knowledge of history and rock and roll. Lisa is also a sportswoman, active in soccer and basketball. She worked on the Crescens staff for three years and was also on the stage crew of the variety show. After taking a year off to work, Lisa hopes to attend the University of Virginia. Go for it, Lisa!

Pary Ann Ansary

"Climb high, climb far, your goal the sky, Your aim the star."

-Unknown

My bounty is as boundless
as the sea,
My love as deep
The more I give to thee
The more I have
For both are infinite

-Shakespeare

Pary became a member of the class of '82 in her sophomore year. She has the distinction of being the oldest yet shortest senior. However, Pary stands tall in her accomplishments: co-student director of the variety show, fund raising for the Prom Committee, and a member of the yearbook staff. It is certain Pary will be very successful at West Virginia Wesleyan where she will study clinical psychology. Good luck, Pary!

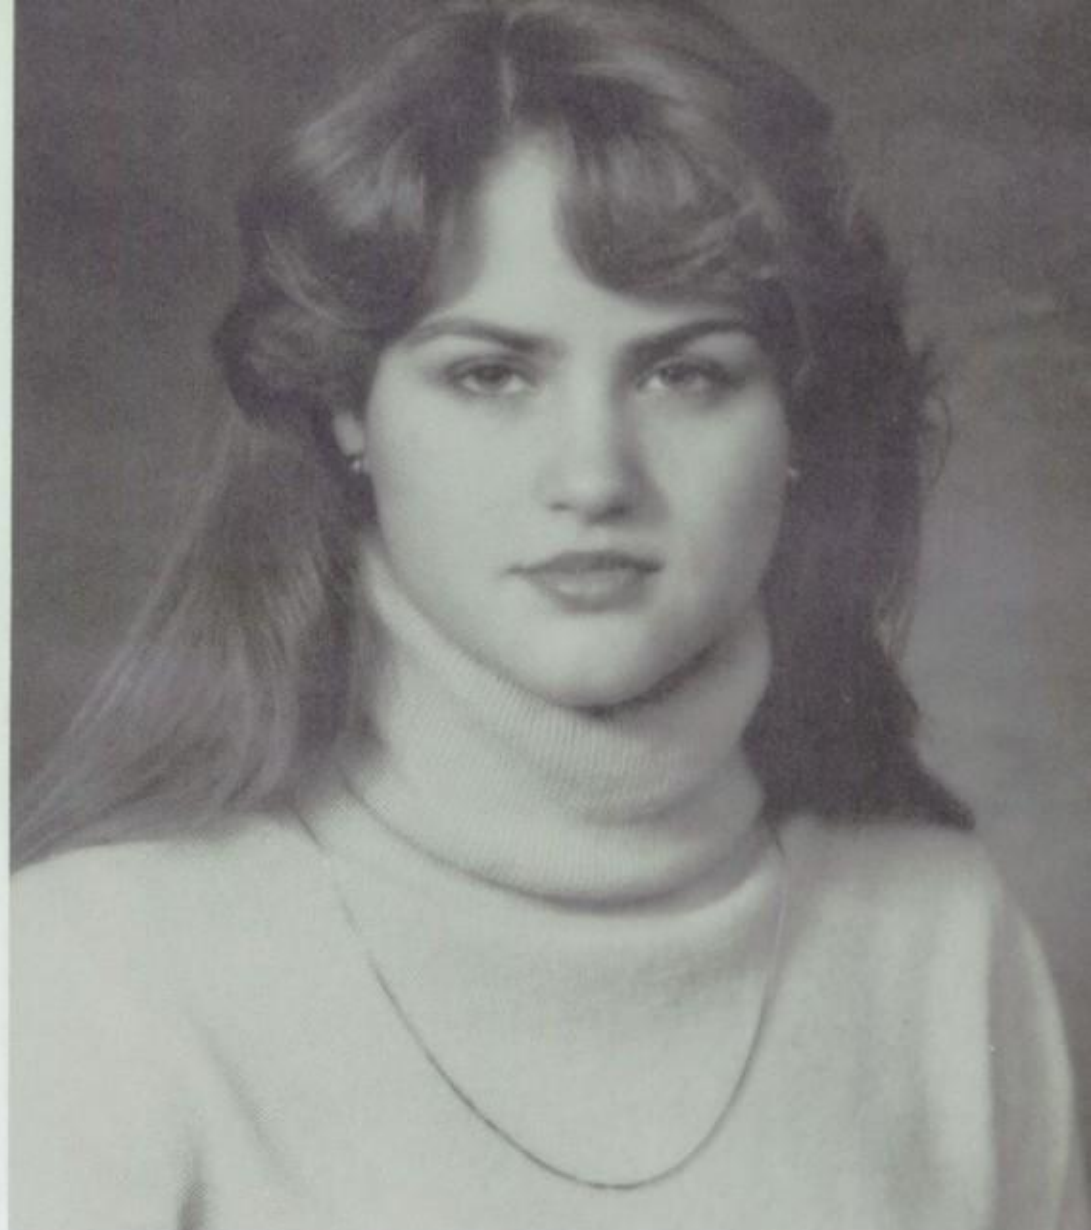

Silvia Sofia Bermudez

Silvia is the only senior at Oakcrest who was not a junior. When she skipped junior year to become a member of the class of '82, Silvia became the youngest, yet tallest senior. In addition to numerous academic honors, she has participated in student council as well as the basketball and tennis teams. Silvia will attend American University next year and then return to her native Spain with her family. There she hopes to become a doctor and to improve her tennis game (not golf?). Adios y buena suerte, Silvia!

Lucia Grace Brach

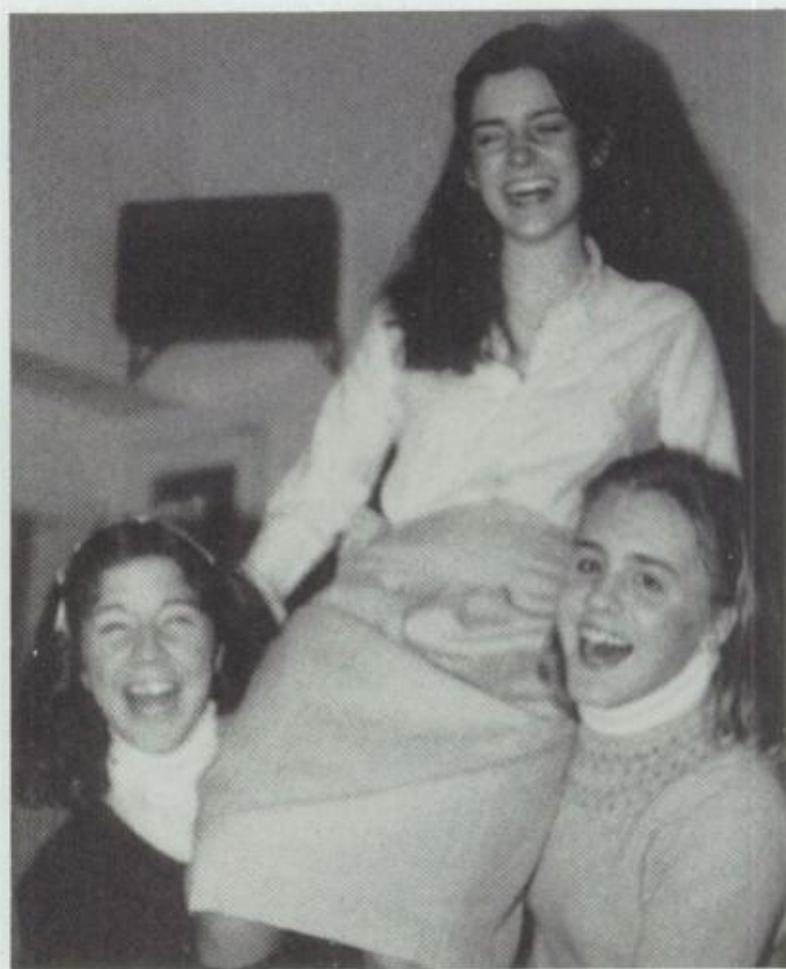

Lucia was one of the "pioneers" who completed six years at Oakcrest. Known as a hard worker, she applied herself equally to academics and school activities. She was president of Student Council, participated in the yearbook, variety show, AP Art, and was a familiar name on the honor roll. Born and raised in D.C., she often made us wonder where she got her Bronx accent! She also had a great eye for the "good-lookings." Lucia plans to attend Catholic University and major in accounting. Her talents in math lead us to believe she will go far. Good luck, kid!

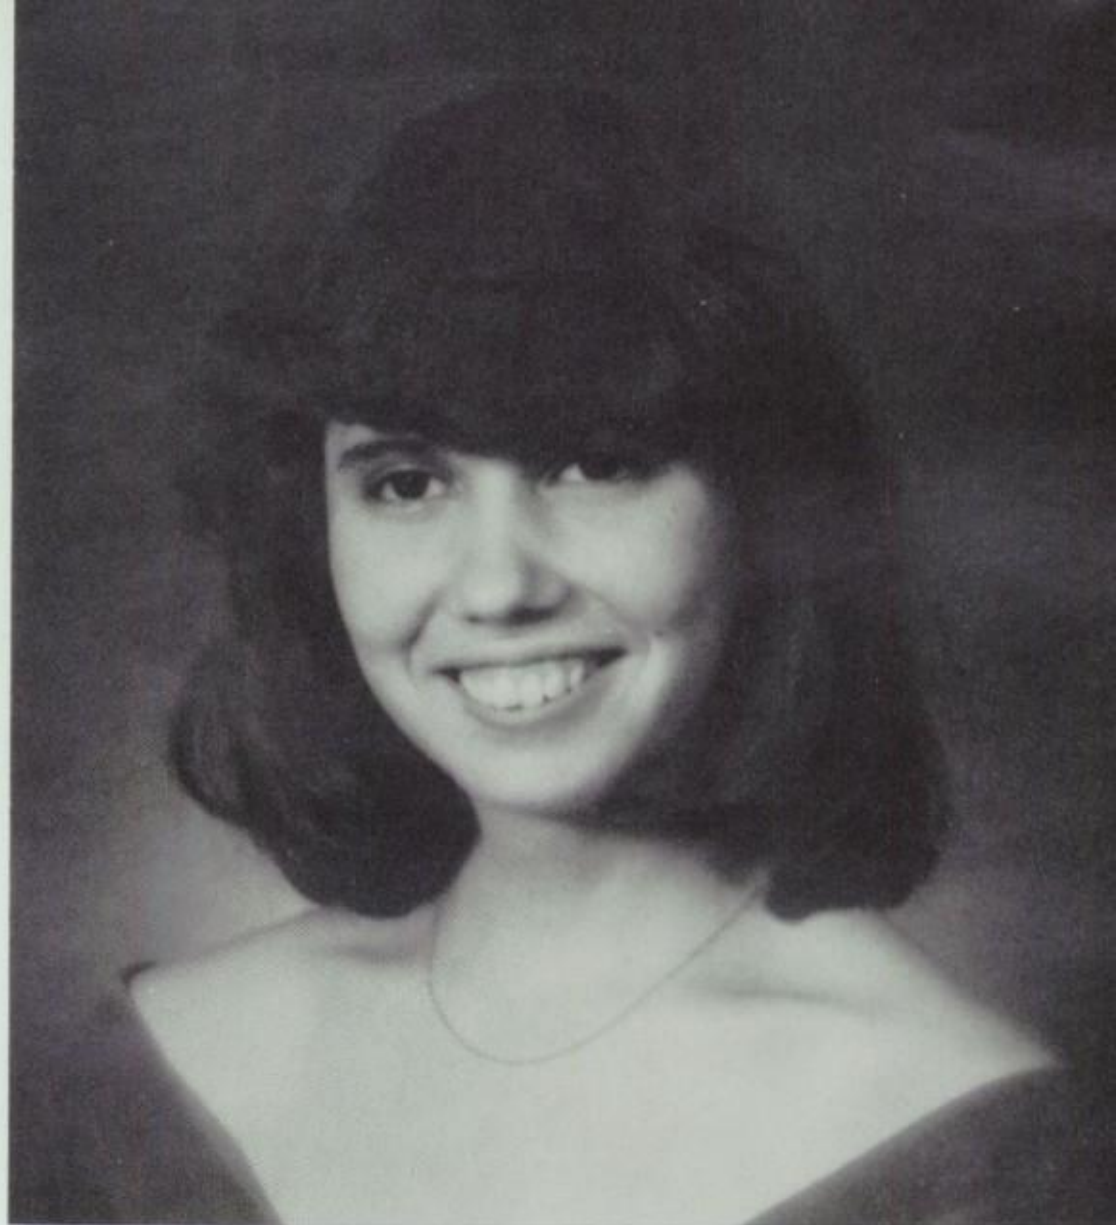

Cecily Kate Bristow

Cecily easily qualifies as THE athlete of our class. When she came from Canada to join us in the junior year we quickly found her to be an extremely gifted sportswoman with all-around SPAZ! In addition to her numerous sports trophies, Cecily's energy also allowed her to make the honor roll and to keep up with Wayne Gretzky . . . now that's incredible! Good luck, Cec, at Queens University in your native Canada. We hope you will finally meet Wayne!

Elena Silvana Caiola

Elena is one of the two original Oakies, having been at Oakcrest for six years. She has been active in many areas, participating in AP Art and AP English, as well as contributing to the yearbook and newspaper. Elena plans to attend Roger Williams College and major in business administration. Her more immediate plan, however, is to go to Italy following graduation to study. Arriverdecì, Elena!

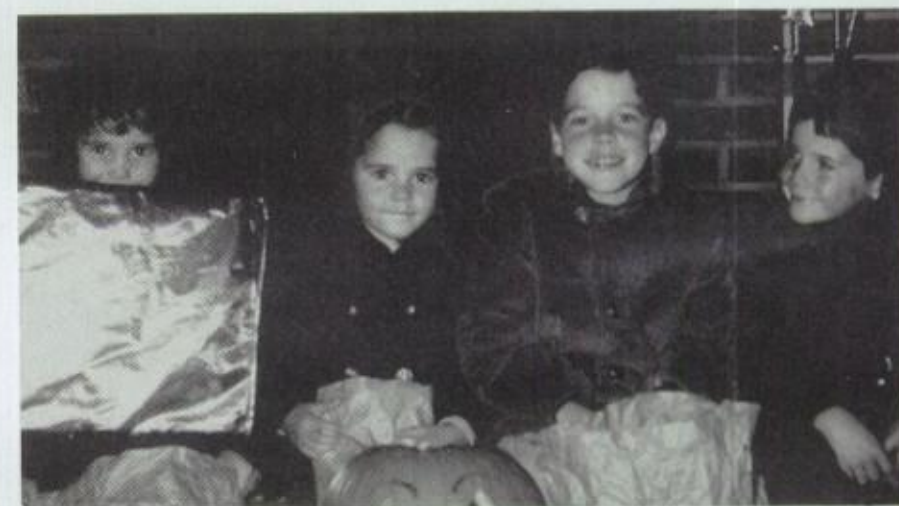

Laura Ann Chapman

Laura Ann Chapman

In her five years at Oakcrest Laura has shown herself to be a quiet, yet dependable behind the scenes worker. In addition to being a hard working student, she has participated in numerous activities. She served on student council, was Co-editor-in chief of this year's Crescens, and studied A.P. Art for three years, earning awards in several art shows. She is remembered for her performance as Meg in Little Women in the Variety Show and is also well-known for her silver and black "Baby Rolls" with its distinctive horn. Her departure from the parking lot always woke up the entire school. Laura plans to begin her studies at "Harvard on the Pike" and will pursue a career in nursing or education. Best of luck, Road Runner!

Anna Maria DiSandro

Anna "April Fool Baby" DiSandro has been at Oakcrest for four years. An active person in student life, Anna has been co-student director of the variety show for two years and co-editor-in-chief of the yearbook. Because of Anna, white Capri's have become as Italian as pasta and vino. She plans to attend Catholic University and pursue a career in business. Ciao, Anna.

Alisoun Elizabeth Hayes

Although Alisoun "I gotta work" Hayes is a relatively new addition to the class of '82, joining us in her junior year, Alisoun was an active member of the Prom Committee and was a make-up artist for the variety show. Alisoun's goal is to study dentistry. Good luck, Al . . . we hope you make it there on time!

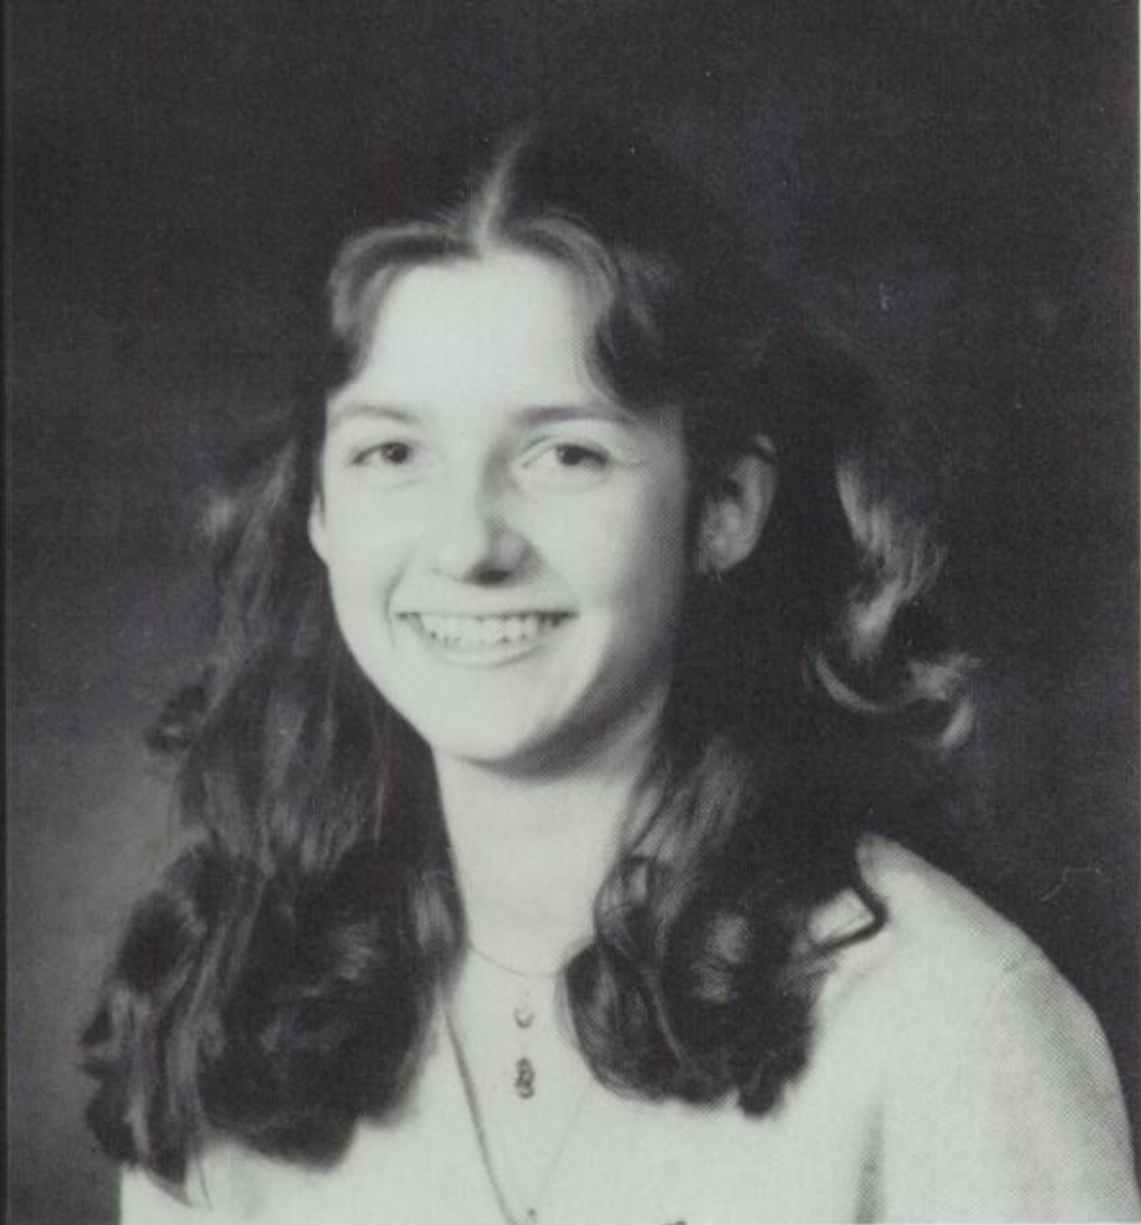

Anne Frances Higgins

Anne's high goals have made her a most productive student in her four years at Oakcrest. Some of her contributions include: the honor roll, student council, varsity basketball, Oakcrest Art Show, Class Valedictorian, and "class air-head." Anne will attend Catholic University in the fall. Good luck, Anne, in what the future holds for you. And because we know of your "gourmet" appetites . . . we hope it holds enough food.

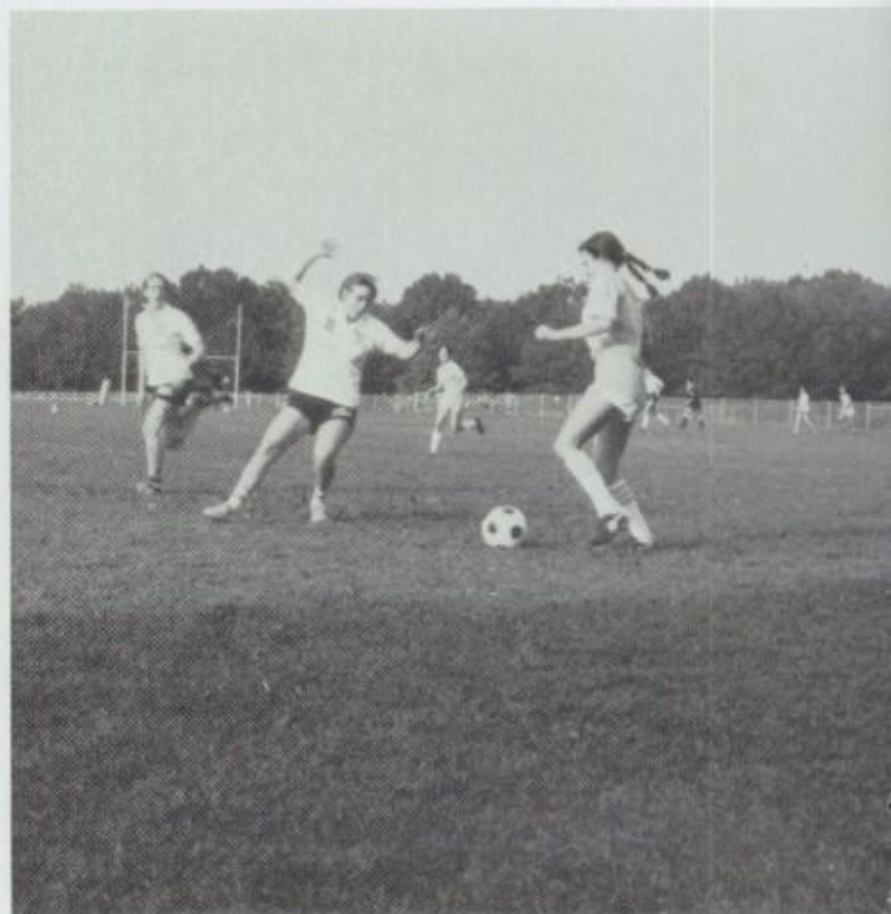

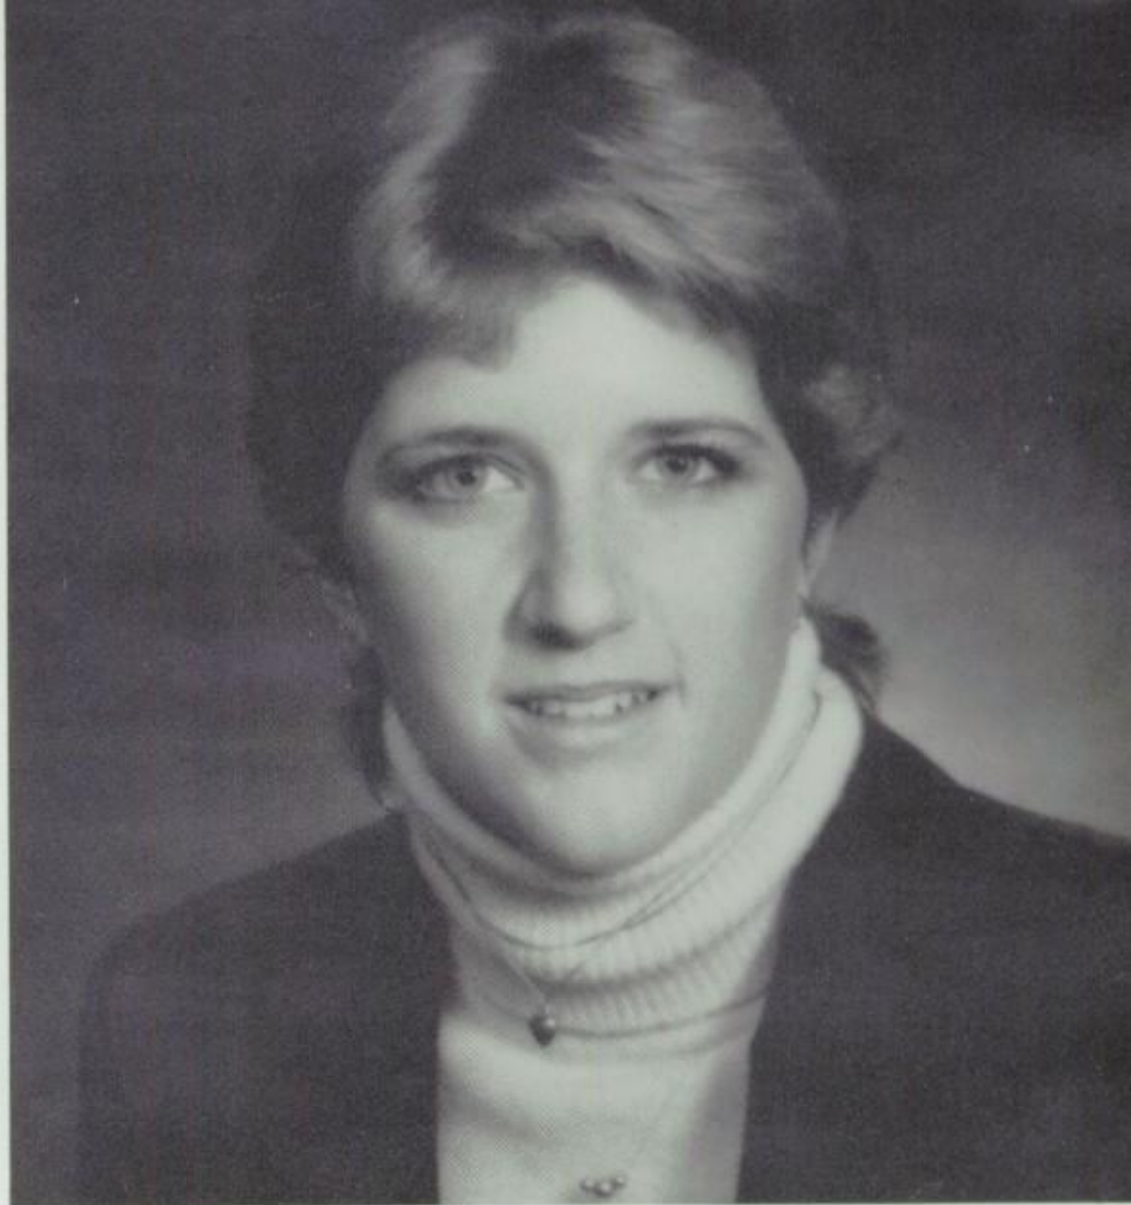

Gabriela Angela Koczak

Gaby is our world traveler as well as an active member of the class of '82. After completing her course work in three and a half years (including summers), she was off to France the second semester to perfect her French. This summer she plans to tour all of Europe! Gaby made the most of her years at Oakcrest by consistently making the honor roll, participating in various committees, Student Council, and sports teams (she is renowned for her enthusiasm for soccer). Gaby's special interest lay in football . . . namely, Joe Theisman. Because of this, #7 has become her trademark. Whatever you do in the future No. 7—be it college or another tour of Europe, we wish you the best!

Some things ought to stay the same
So tomorrow we can claim
We stayed unaltered as this page
When we passed from youth to age.

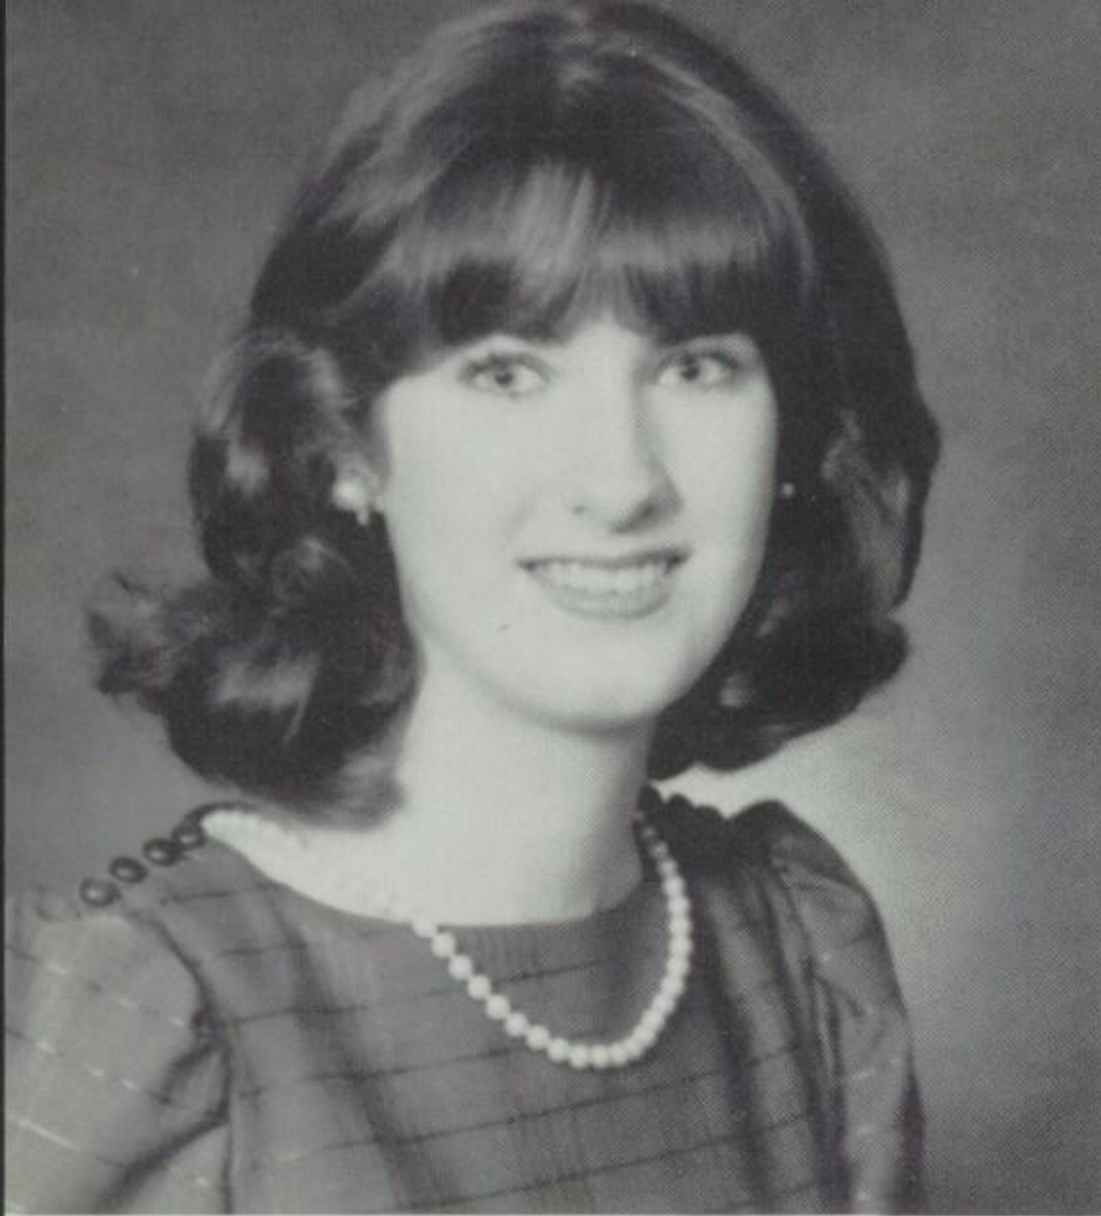

Regina Lee Krager

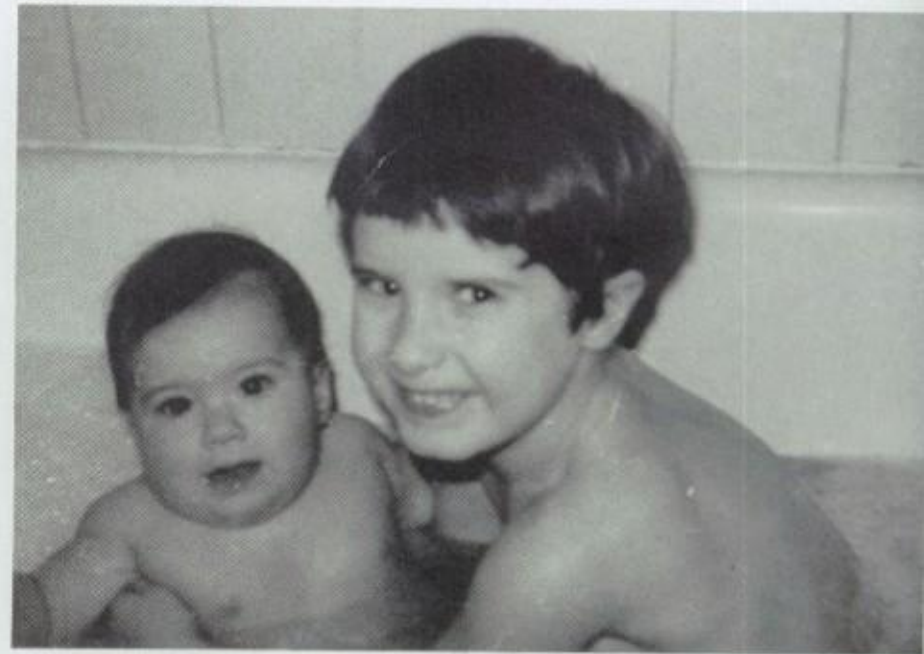

Regina came to Oakcrest three years ago from New Jersey. Since then she has made many contributions to the school, participating in student council, yearbook, and AP Art. Above all, Regina has added comic relief to the class of '82. All of us seniors wish you good luck, Regina, and much success with your talent in art. By the way, Reg . . . school did start at 8:25!

Clare Adele McNicholas

A cheerful, vivacious person, Clare has affected all of us throughout her five years at Oakcrest. Her lively character and flair for the dramatic have provided many entertaining moments . . . to say the least! She has participated in several theatrical productions in and out of school, including the famed role of Amy March in the Oakcrest production of "Little Women". Clare's enthusiasm enabled her to play a major part in the success of the Prom. Clare plans to attend Montgomery College in Rockville where she will most likely pursue a career as a legal secretary. Keep 'em smiling, Clare!

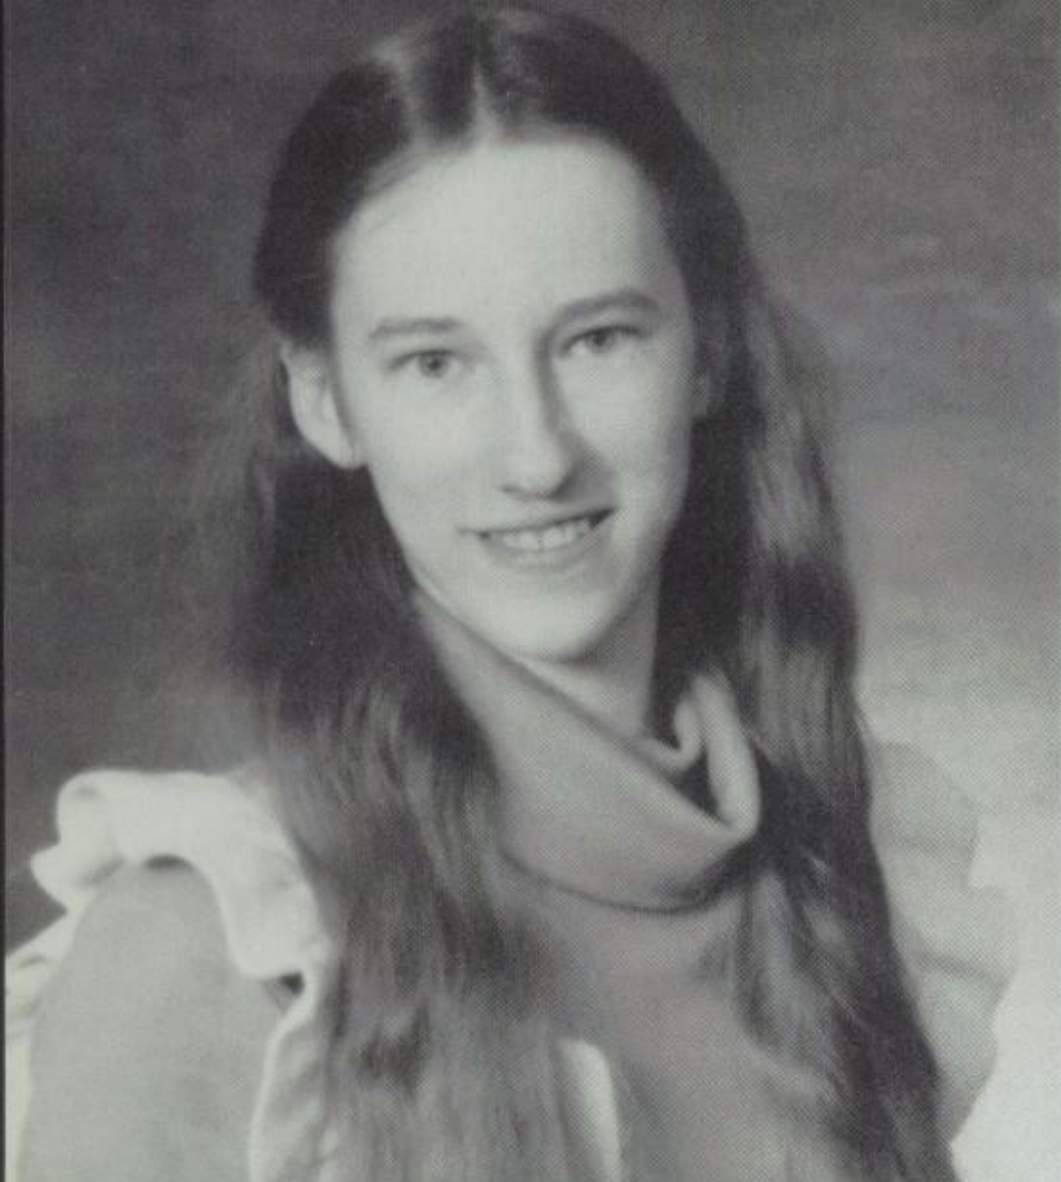

Karen Frances Petersen

In her four years at Oakcrest, Karen has distinguished herself as a journalist and photographer, making contributions to the school newspaper and the yearbook. If she isn't snapping "candid", Karen can usually be found racing around in her station wagon ("the Boat") or her enormous silver van. Karen enjoys skiing and "hits" the slopes every Christmas. She plans to attend Duquesne University where she aspires to be a journalist. Good luck, K.K., and we hope you become the next Baa-Baa Waa-Waa!

Teresa Germaine Redding

Teresa has attended Oakcrest since ninth grade and has come to be affectionately known as "the class doodler." Teresa has doodled her way through AP Art with good success and has continued to the school newspaper and the yearbook. When not doodling or writing creative stories, she has found time to do volunteer work at Sibley Hospital, ride horses, and work with children. Her ambition is to have her own business: a riding stable especially equipped for the handicapped. Good luck, Teresa!

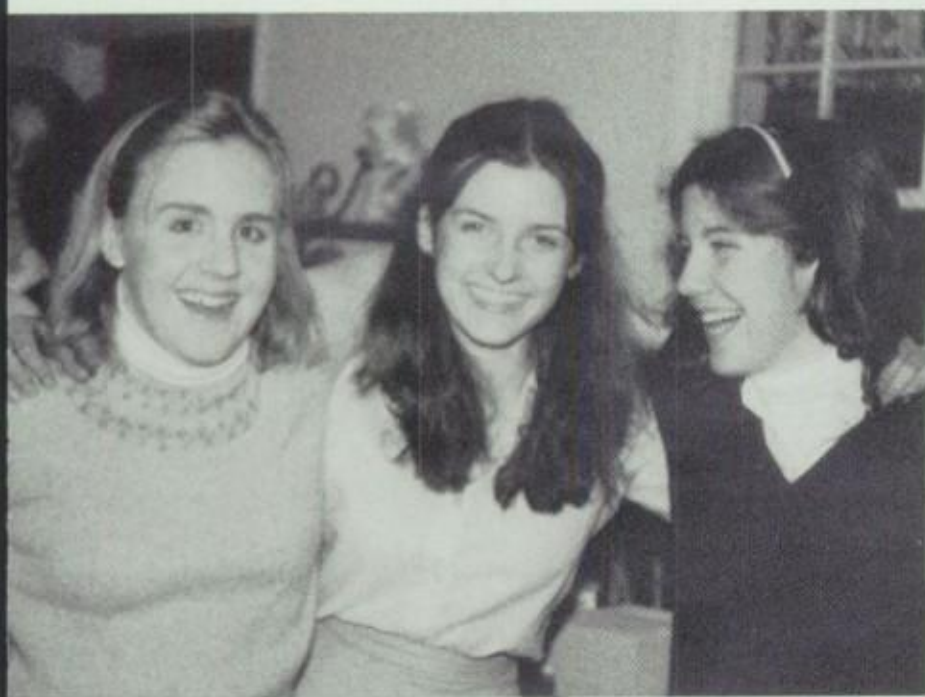

A ship in a harbor is safe, but that is not what ships are built for.

-Shedd

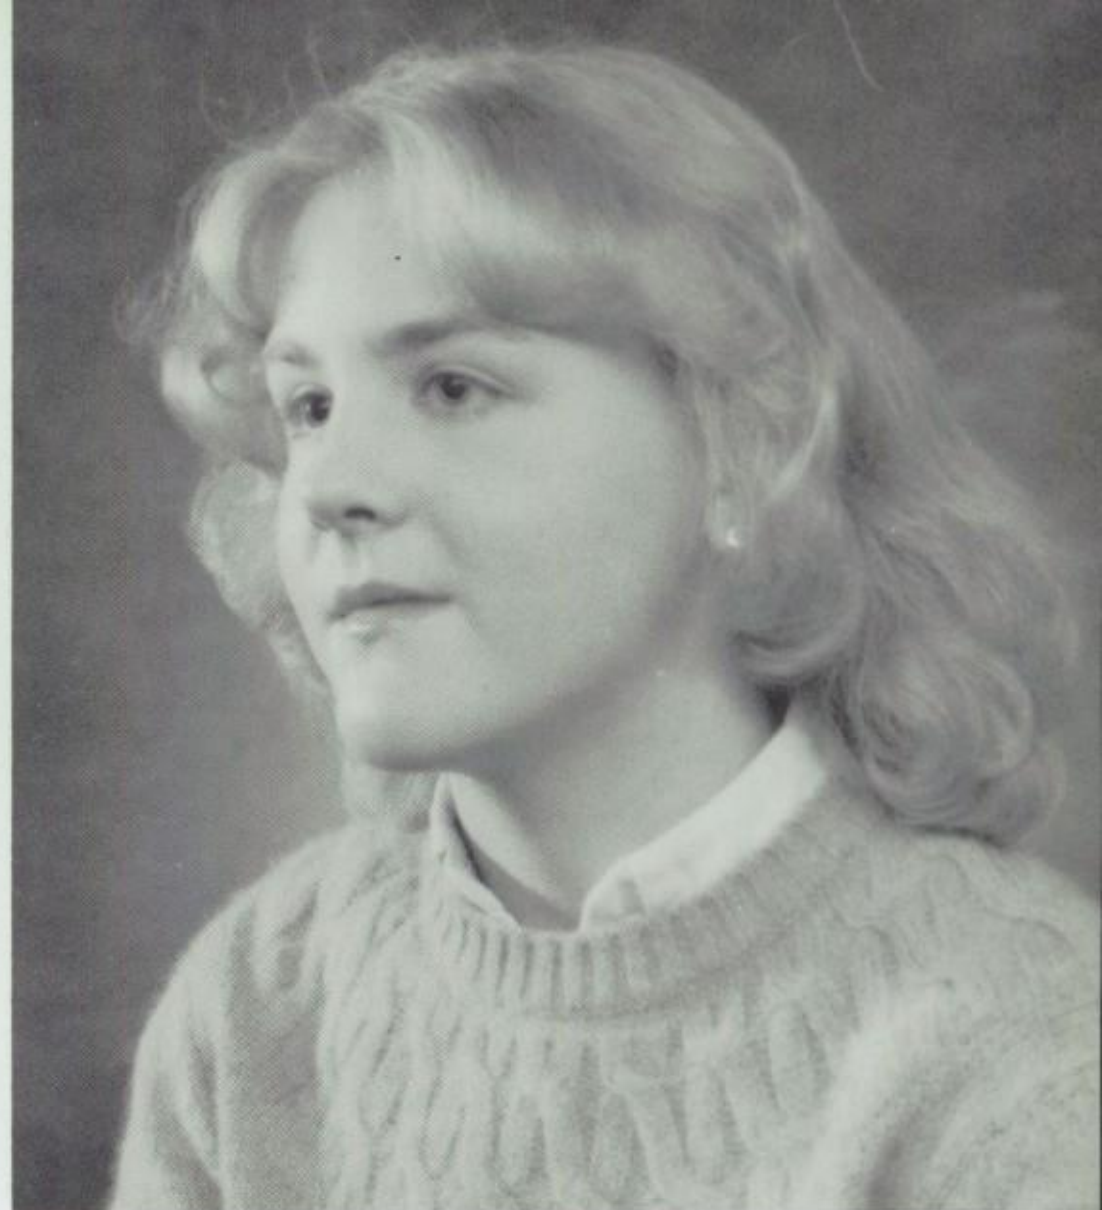

Someone said that those who are mentally and emotionally healthy are those who have learned when to say YES, when to say NO, and when to say WHOOPEE!

Step into the darkness of the evening
 Let yourself lay back within your dreams
 Take on the situation but not the torment
 Now you know it's not as bad as it seems.

-Stevie Nicks

Rebecca Christine Young

Rebecca Christine Young

Rebecca Young is a four year veteran of Oakcrest. Aside from being a vital member of the tennis and basketball teams, Becky became a familiar name on the honor roll and participated in AP English. Her main accomplishment, however, was as editor-in-chief of the Oakleaf. Becky plans to continue her education at Sweet Briar College in Virginia. She aspires to be both a veterinarian and an author . . . Marvin Stone, beware! Good luck, Bec.

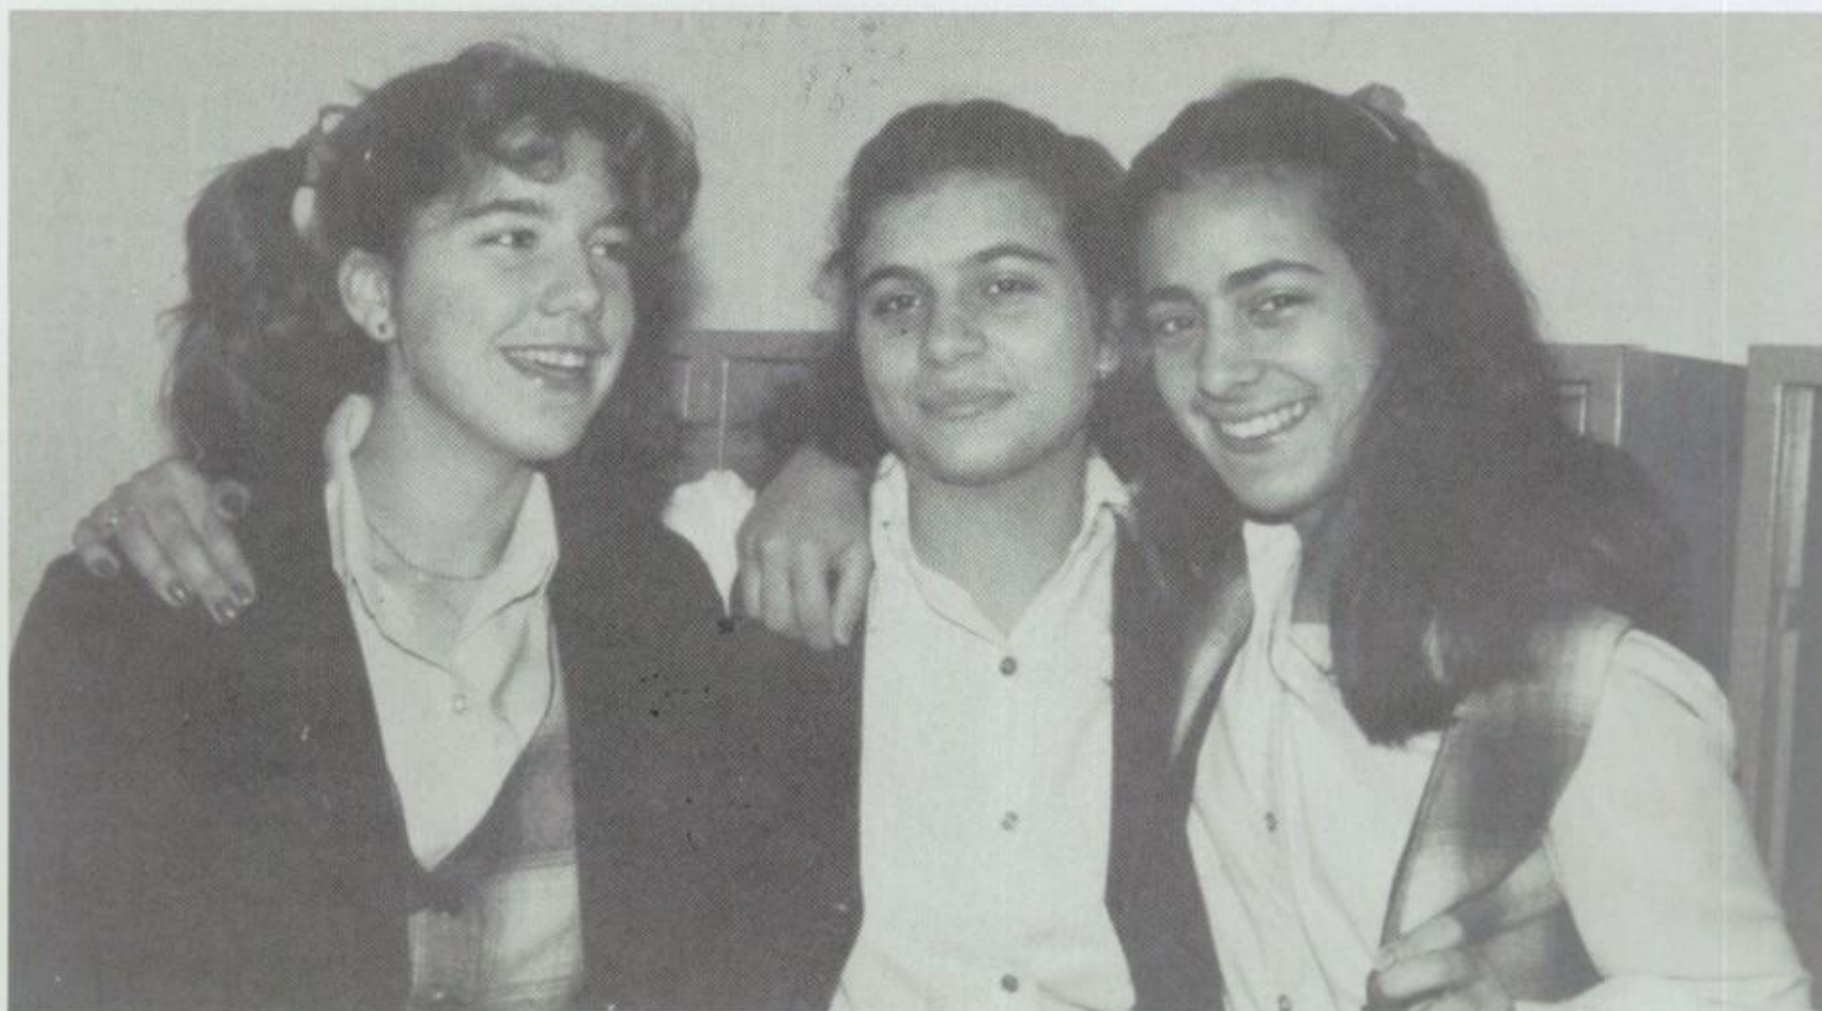

We Remember

Maria Leticia Gutierrez had been a very special member of the class of '82 since her arrival at Oakcrest in the ninth grade. She would have been "number 17" of our graduating class had not her family returned to Paraguay last summer. Although she was far away in distance this year, she was very much a part of our thoughts since she had given us her bright smile, enthusiasm, and an example of striving for excellence. We are with you Maria, as we know you are with us!

Cocktail Benefit

Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Canali

In the spring the Hon. and Mrs. Hilarion Cardozo graciously made their home the setting of Oakcrest's annual Cocktail Benefit. While sophomores worked behind the scenes, juniors and seniors acted as hostesses to parents and guests. We thank Mrs. Schwarz and Mrs. Loges for organizing the benefit and Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Canali for their culinary artistry which helped make the benefit a success

Yvette Galvez checks the table.

Mrs. Daniele Schwarz greets guests.

Ring Day—Prom Memories

Views Of Other Events

What a day!

It beats hearing so many bells!

Miss Grieb does it again!

Me, learn this? You've got to be kidding!

Personally, I prefer my thumb!

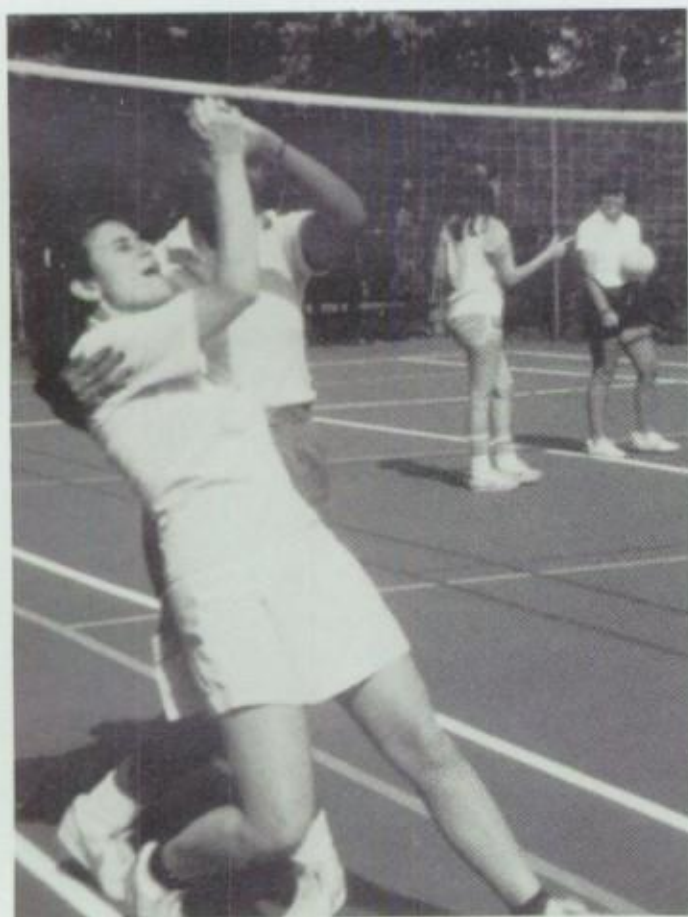

How can you say we're not paying attention?

Did you ever put your foot in your mouth?

Man, I love that ole rock and roll!

French braids aren't an academic activity?

Miss Maksym . . . Guess what I found!

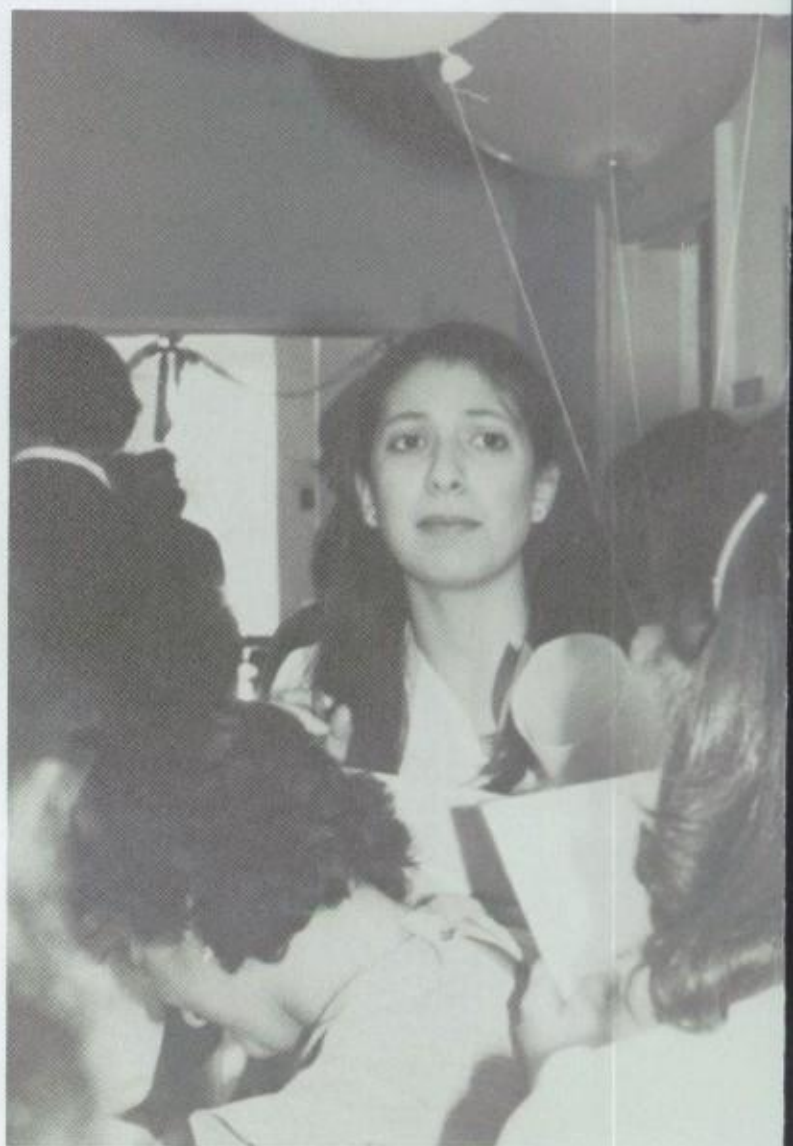

Stop! Pay toll

Did Einstein have to go this route?

... And then tell her you couldn't find your homework

But it's 8:29 and I have a test!

Welcome! Won't you come in?

Rumor had it there was a man on the tennis court

Laura . . . The pulse is getting weaker

But I thought the food was being catered today!

Stop if you're a photographer from Vogue!

Crazy? Who's crazy?

Graduation 1982

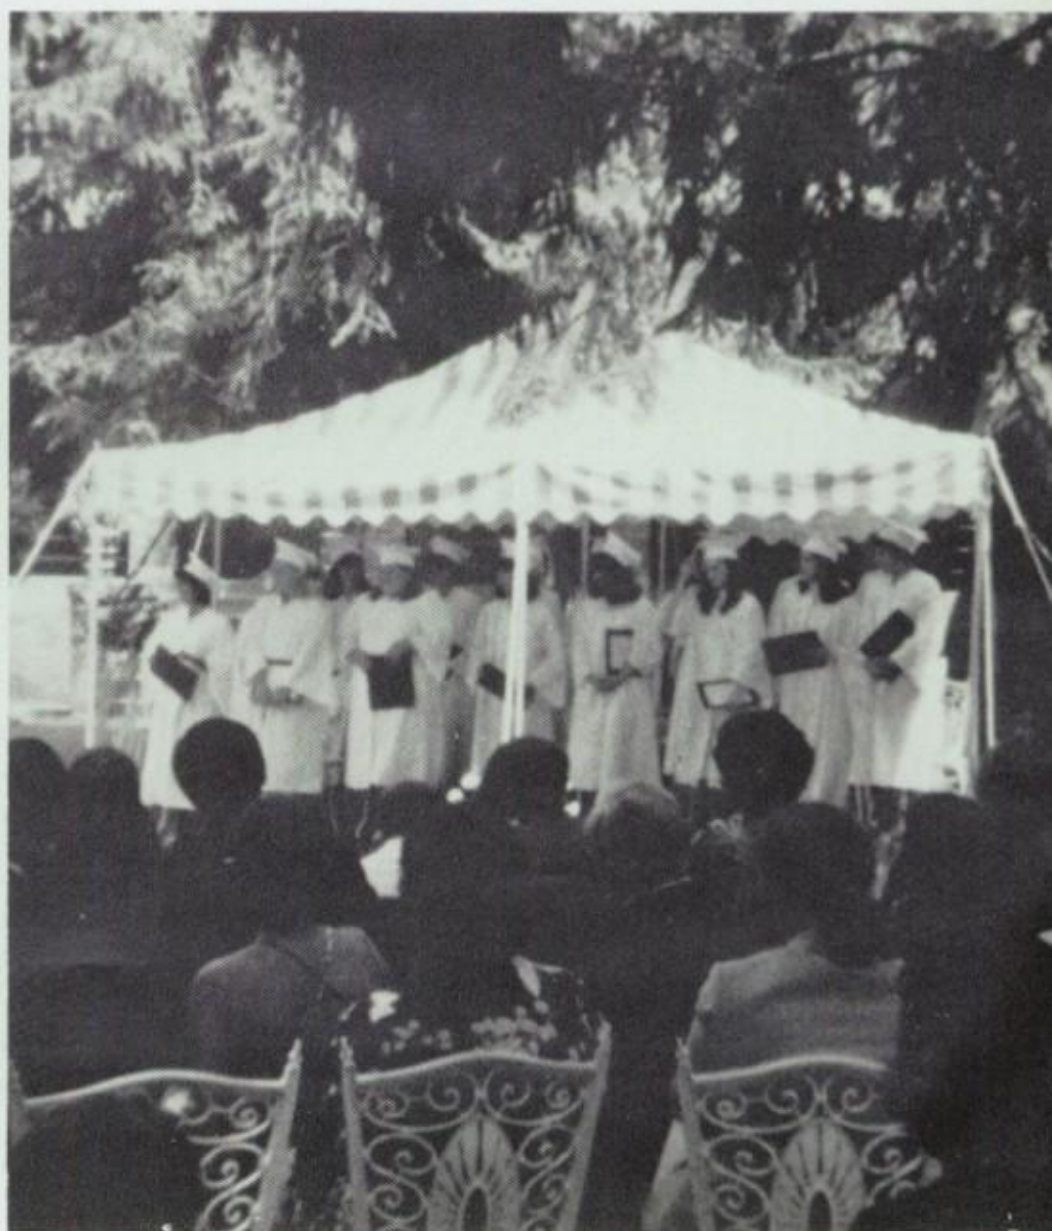

Mr. Cyrus Ansary challenges the graduates

The great thing is this world is not so much where we are, but in what direction we are moving.

Lucia Brach remembers six years at Oakcrest.

Anne Higgins, valedictorian, looks to the future.
